Communication Program

Purpose Statement

The mission of the communication department is to prepare competent communicators by providing students a foundation in communication theory and practice that will enhance their personal, civic, and professional lives.

Students who complete the communication major can expect to develop

- the ability to express audience-centered messages clearly in both speaking and writing.
- confidence and competence in speaking encounters whether for public presentations or for building interpersonal and professional relationships.
- strategies for overcoming communication barriers.
- media literacy including knowledge about how media are created and how media affect how we communicate.

Students who complete the digital media major with the communication emphasis will develop competence in

- the ability to express audience-centered messages clearly in both speaking and writing.
- obtaining still images, audio, and video, and combining these media with text to tell stories effectively.
- designing, laying out, and publishing content online and in print.
- media literacy including knowledge about how media are created and how media affect how we communicate.

Competency Exam

Students who plan to major in communication, or the communication emphasis of the digital media major, must pass a writing competency exam. This exam will be offered in the spring semester, before pre-enrollment for the fall. Transfer students will take the exam early in their first semester at the college. Students who fail the exam may re-take it after participating in guided study and practice of writing.

Communication Minor

A minor in communication consists of G-CM 120 Introduction to Human Communication (3 hours), and any other 17 hours of communication courses. Communication practica may make up no more than four hours of coursework in the minor.
